Gives You A Better View

An elementary student is shown her (left) taking a time out during playtime to tie his shoe.

Ninth grader Jolie Butts visits with some of her classmates while waiting for the bell.

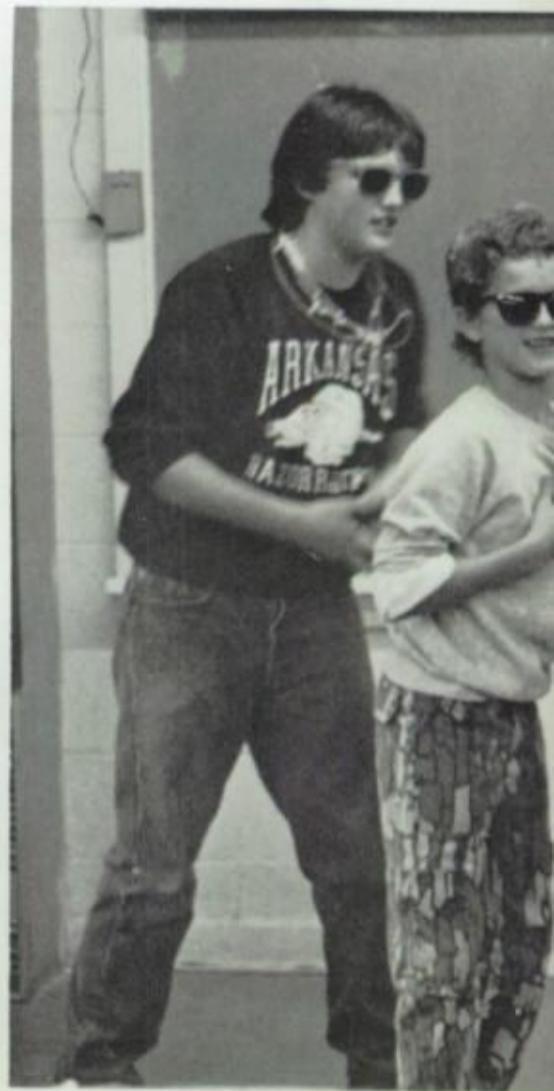

"We've got the look" here at Pangburn High! What kind of look you might ask? Well, the looks that make us special, looks of excitement, joy, sorrow, disappointment and enjoyment.

Looks of excitement are found on everyone's face during a close ballgame. Fear is sometimes what you would call the look on the faces of students who have just experienced the locker room.

After standing in line at lunch hoping to get pizza and finding out it's sourkraut and weiners the look on one's face is frustration. Other familiar looks might be weariness, confusion, disgust or just plain happiness.

Whatever the looks may be they are all a part of the way of life at Pangburn High School.

Fall Festival Something For Everyone

The annual Fall Festival presented by the Parent Teacher Organization offers a wide variety of activities for everyone to enjoy. Whether you enjoy beauty contest, games, foods or just visiting with people it is all here at the Fall Festival.

The main goal of the Fall Festival is to raise funds for the school. The money made by classes is theirs to keep for their activities and the money made by the PTO is used to purchase needed item for school. Along with the fun the Fall Festival also serves as a valuable fund raiser for everyone.

Mr. Browning, school superintendent, serves as the master of ceremonies for the King and Queen contest.

Music Department Presents

Christmas Around The World

Some say that music is the international language and if that is so then the whole world could have enjoyed the Christmas program this year.

The theme of the Christmas program was "Celebrate Christmas Around the World" and the music students showed everyone how Christmas is celebrated in other countries of the world.

With songs, dances and demonstrations the customs and traditions of other lands were brought to Pangburn for one night. Along with the vocal music the instrumental music department provided a concert of Christmas songs. Music whether vocal or instrumental allows the students a chance to perform and express himself thus giving pleasure to everyone.

Shelley Johnson Selected 1988 Yearbook Queen

Shelley Johnson, a senior, was the choice for the 1988 Yearbook Queen. Shelley was selected from twelve girls representing grades seven through twelve. Each girl was elected by classmates to represent their grade and the winners were named by an unknown panel of judges viewing photographs of each girl. The judges also selected junior Lesley Murphy and eighth grader Kris Pate as runners up. The other contestants were Khrys Wilson and Hollie Billings, 7th grade; Greta McDougal, 8th grade; Jolie Butts and Teresa Gray, 9th grade; Gina Horton and Missy Jackson, 10th grade; Toni Hartfield, 11th grade and Tami Rainey, 12th grade.

The jr. & sr. cheerleaders combine for an exciting Homecoming Pep Rally.

Showing Your Spirit

At a basketball game there is always a lot of noise, but the noise at a Tiger game is in the form of cheering. Cheering always helps the team generate a greater urge to win.

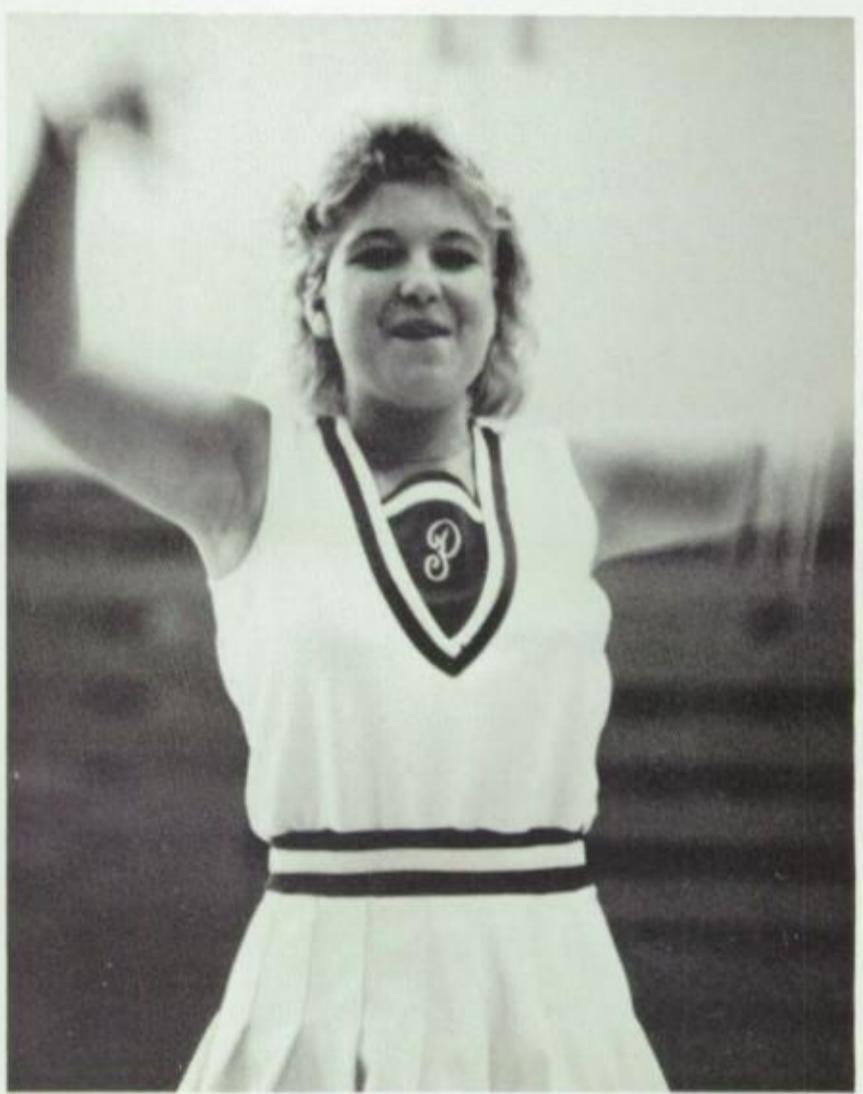

Leading the cheers at a Tiger game is a group of spirited cheerleaders. Both junior and senior cheerleader squads have overcome some set backs to become the much needed crowd motivators our school needs.

JR. CHEERLEADERS - Bridget McDoniel, Jolie Butts, Leah Floyd, Lee Anna Gallegly, Teresa Gray, D'Lyna Skelton, Alicia Harris (mascot)

Jr. cheerleaders perform their pom-pom routine during half time.

Generating spirit helps all of our fans enjoy the game.

Pep Rallies allow the students to show their support for their teams. Tonia Sturch and other students join in a cheer.

Sr. high cheerleader, Bridget Lively, gets into the spirit of things as cheerleaders lead the student body during a pep rally.

Teachers, Tigers, And Johnson All Winners At Homecoming '88

Each year Homecoming becomes more and more of an event and celebration rather than just a ballgame and crowning ceremony. Although the ballgame and ceremonies are still the big draw there is a lot more to Homecoming than meets the eye. With the help of the Student Council the students are given a chance to participate in the "Homecoming Games". This is an event where each grade enters a team to compete against the other grades in fun competition. This year the teachers entered a team and came out the victors with the eleventh grade taking second. With the fun comes spirit and the cheerleaders lead the school promoting Tiger Spirit. With excitement at a all time high the basketball teams defeated Quitman in all three games.

Reigning over the 1988 Homecoming was senior Shelley Johnson and her court Lesley Murphy, maid of honor, Melissa Cooper, Autumn Turley, Gena Horton and Misty Poole.

Computers They're To Stay

There has always been something about a computer that frightens people. Whether it's just a word, the looks or just the unknown operations people are reluctant to use one. The teachers at our school are trying to change the way students perceive computers. Classrooms have been equipped with personal computers to allow students to freely experiment and enjoy their uses. The computer is definitely a machine of the future and the better we understand them now the less we'll have to learn tomorrow.

Hanging In There Junior Boys

The 1988 season wasn't the best one for the junior boys team but it wasn't from their lack of trying. If points were given on effort and determination we would be county champs. Winning isn't everything and the love of the game of basketball was definitely shown by watching the junior boys play.

JR. BOYS BASKETBALL - Michael Tippy, Chris Higgs, Jerry Lyons, Chris Liles, Brandon Barnett, Preston Perry, Michael Siler, Matt Langley, Jason Stowe, Ivan Perry, Shelby Taylor, David Rolland, Rodney Atkins, Jamie Hayes, Pete Robinson, Cory Stowe, Craig Williams, Reggie Rose, Heath Ramsey.

Jerry Lyons shoots over an opponent for two points.

Ninth grader, Michael Tippy, studies his options of passing or taking a shot.

left - At times a loose ball takes on the look of a fumble during a football game.

above - Time out is an important time to regroup and plan new tactics.

Small Team Gets Big Results

There may not be as many players as usual, but the results are just as good. These eleven girls always played the best teams hard and it showed. Winning the Jr. County Tournament highlighted this year's season. Winning always takes practice and determination and these girls prove the old saying "Practice Makes Perfect".

JR. GIRLS - Penny Williams, Deborah Thomas, Lori Ellis, Kris Pate, Hollie Billings, Dawn Davis, Ginger Cooper, Christy Morris, Tami Sue Drake, Stephanie Grimes, Lorie Reaves.

Hollie Billings takes the ball and goes in for two points.

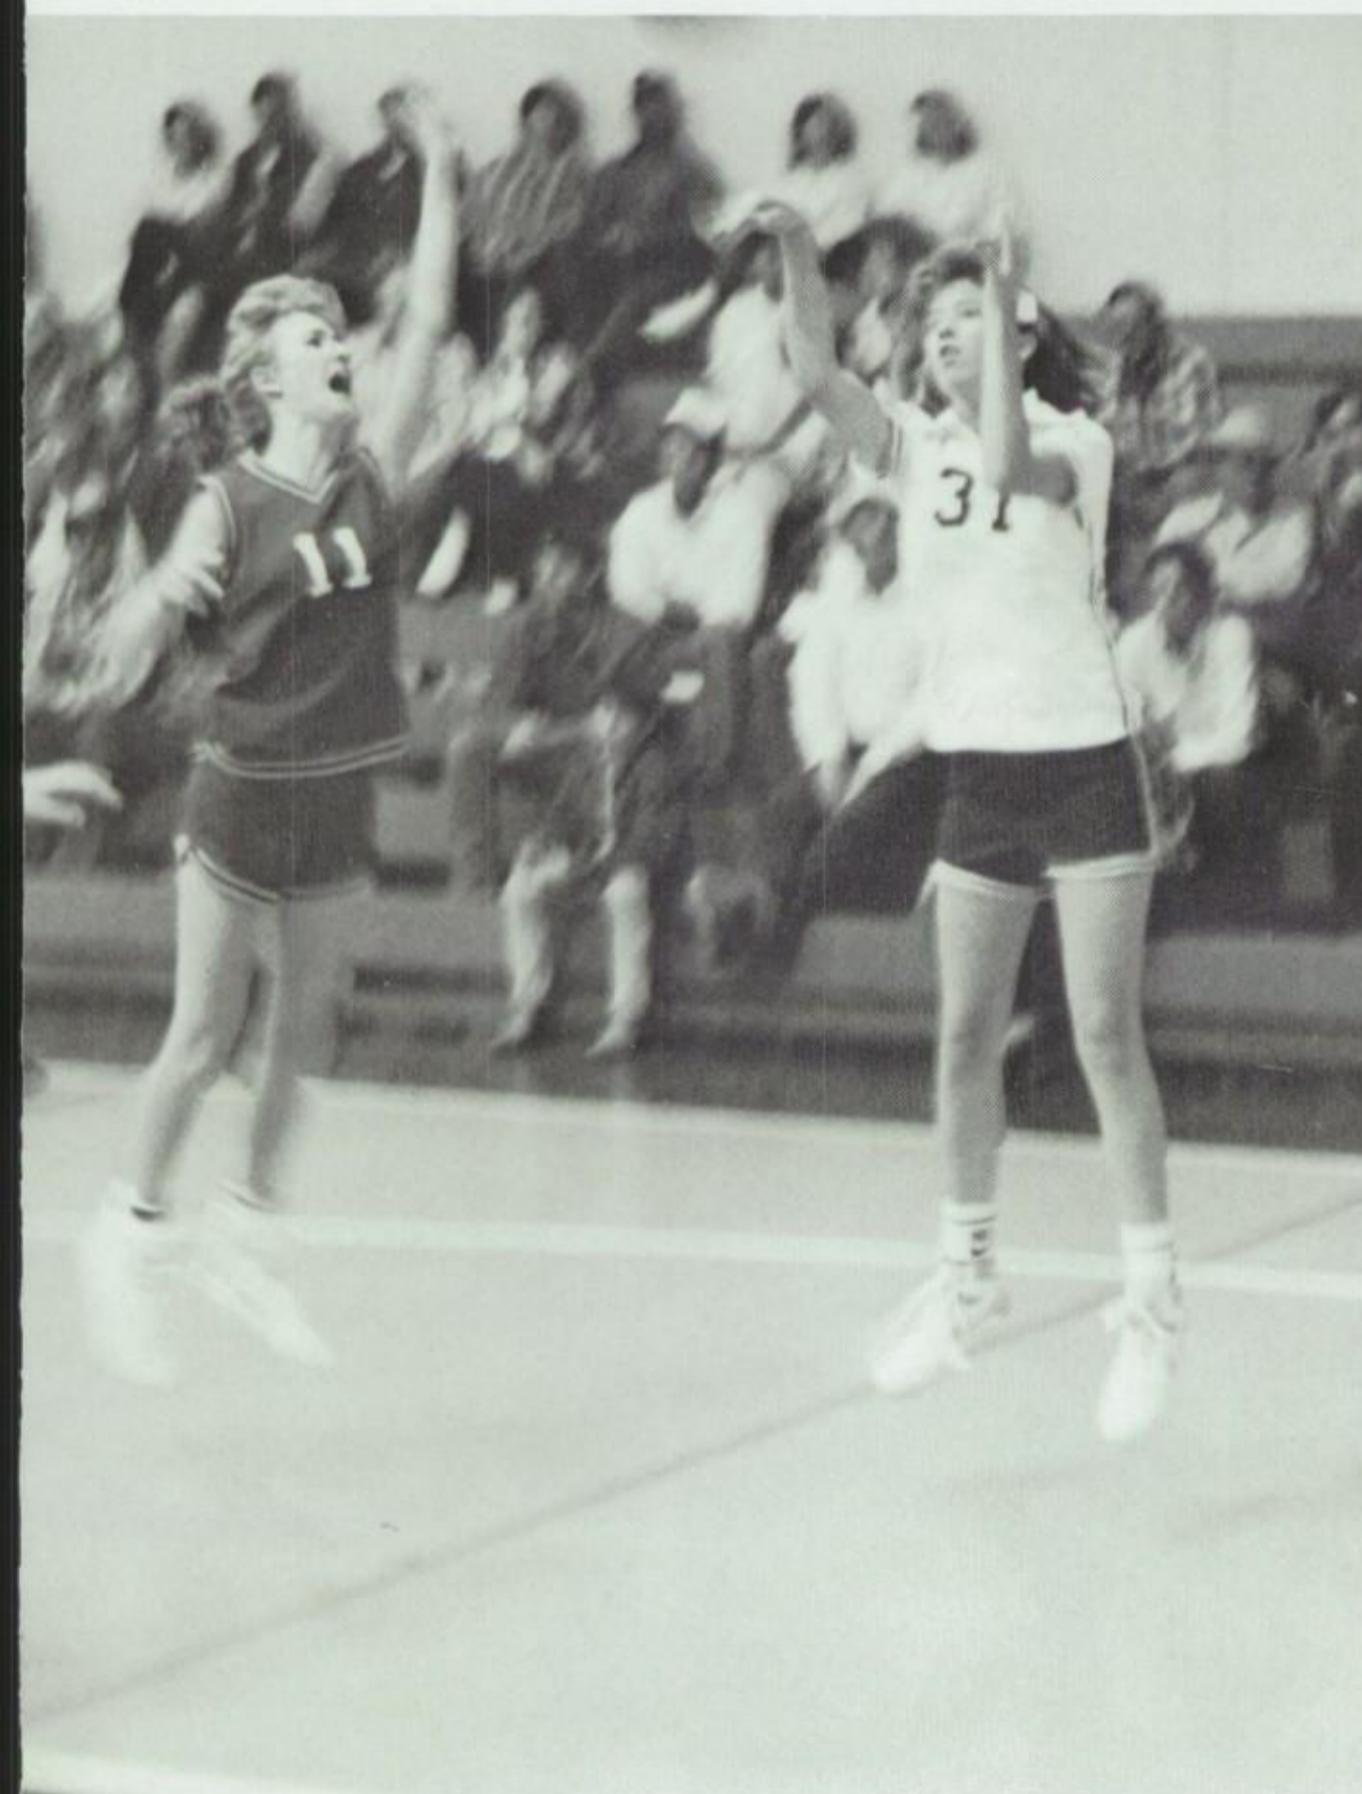

Kris Pate winner of the White County Jr. Girls Most Valuable Player Award.

Once a team, always a team. Here Lorie Reaves and some of her teammates participate in an activity other than basketball.

Lori Ellis takes the pass and looks for the open man.

Tami Drake fires up a shot over a Concord player's hands.

A player tries to stop a shot put up by Lori Ellis in a game against Concord.

Always Expect The Unexpected

The senior boys basketball team always give their fans what they've come to expect - an exciting, action packed barn burner. Winning is an important way of life for this team and they always give their best to edge the opponents for the win.

You can't always predict the senior boys style because just when you thought you've seen it all - they surprise you with something new.

right - A player goes to the boards for two points for the Tigers. Other players go toward the goal for the rebound.

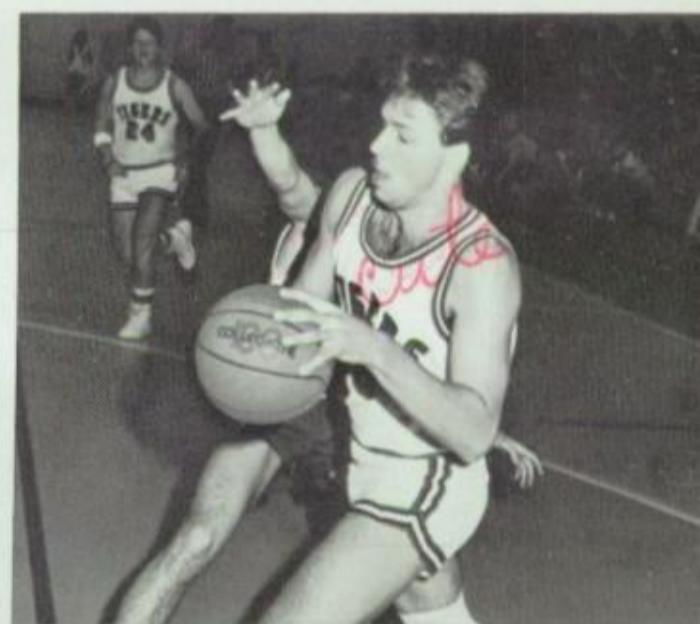

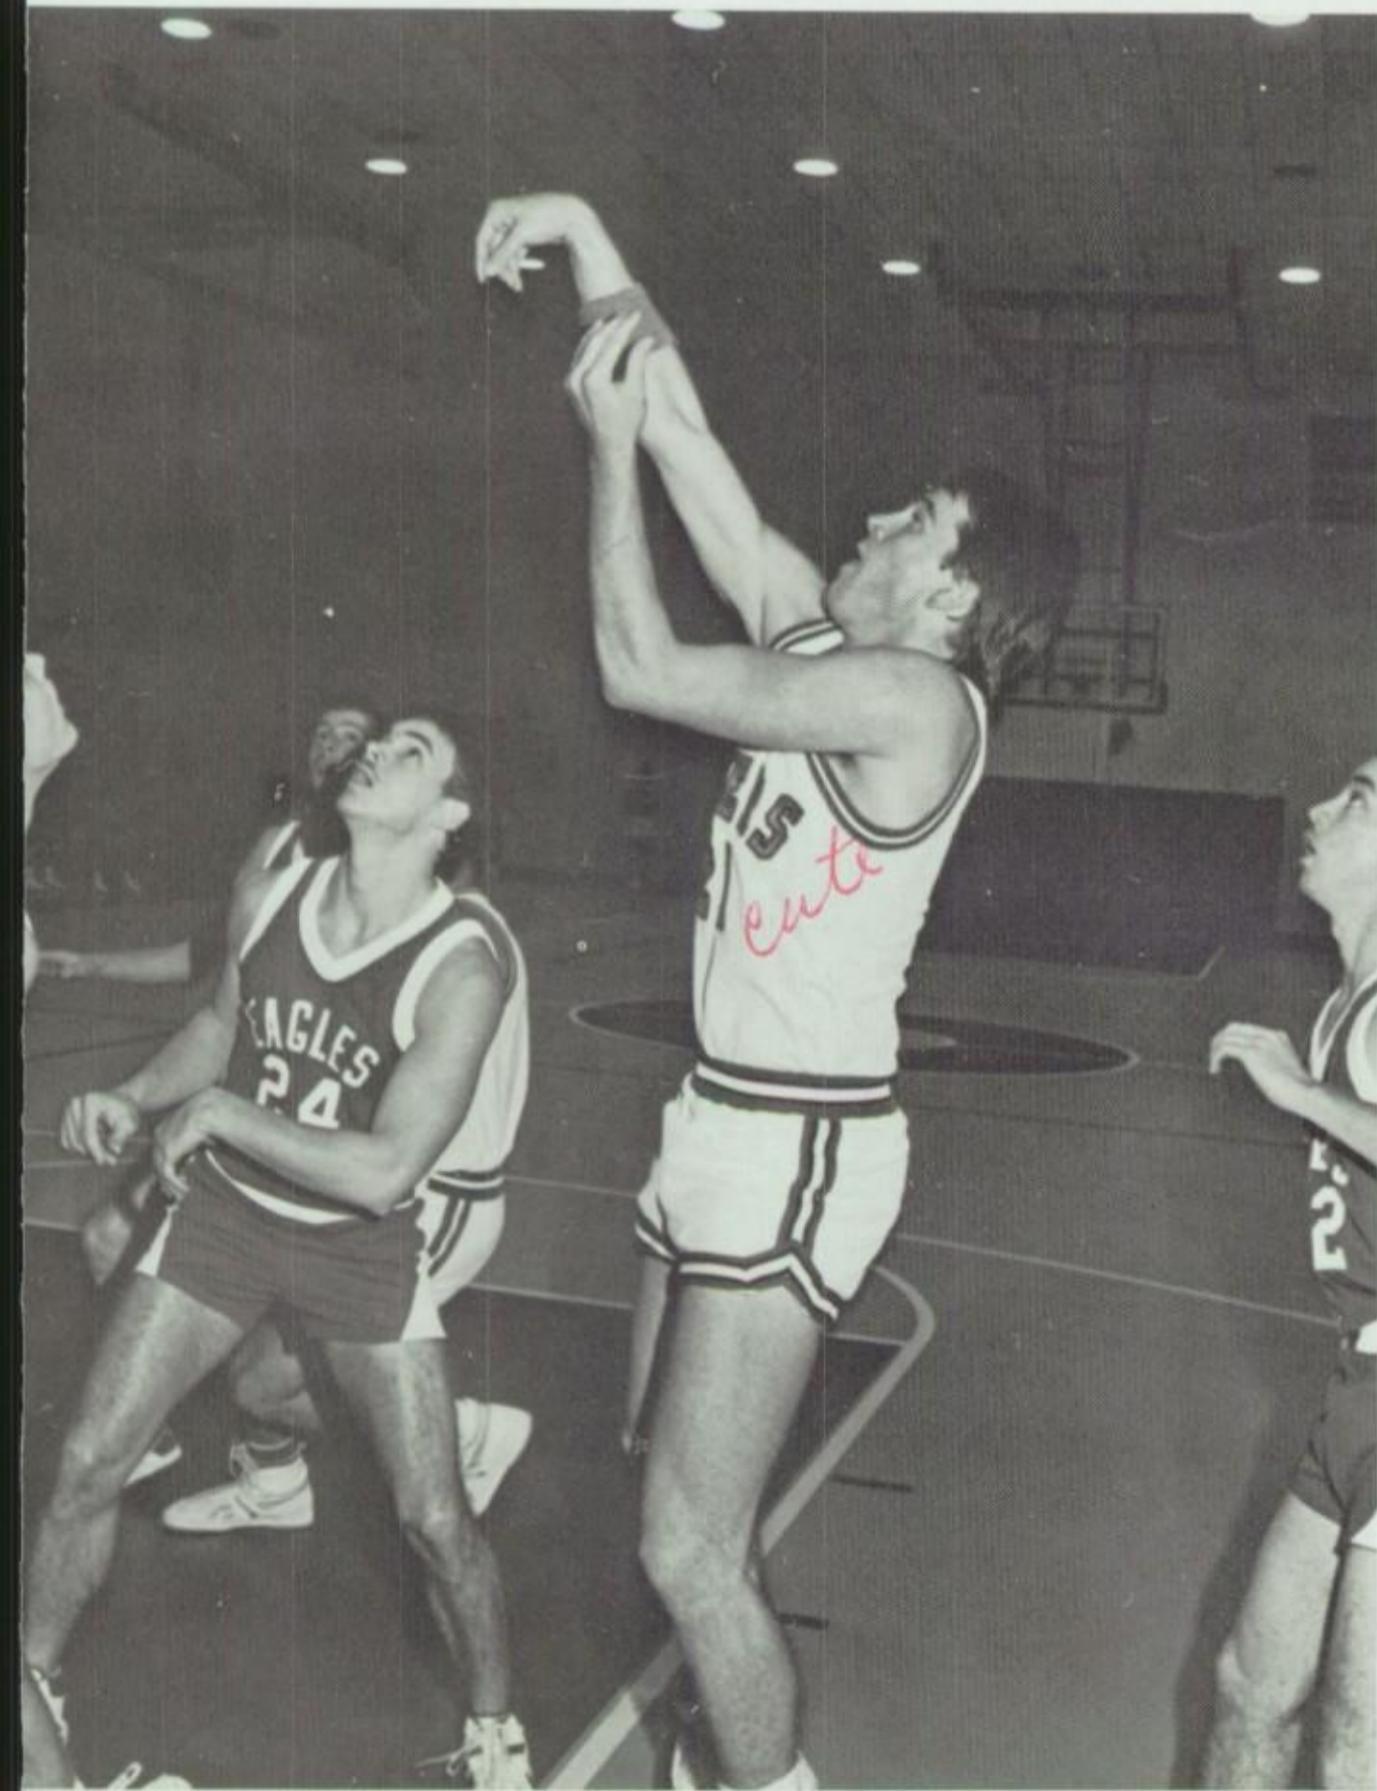

Mark Crain, senior, passes through a group of West Side players to add two points to the total.

far left - Coach Reynolds makes changes in the game plan during a much needed time out.

Mark Crain takes the incentive and charges around his opponent to the basket.

Chris Roberson shoots a jumper from the baseline to add a couple of points to the score.

All The Right Moves

For the senior girls their success hasn't been purely accidental. Hard work, practice and skill has paid off in big ways. With the White County, Mid-Ark, Midland and 2A West Conference Championships under their belt there is no wonder that both state papers rank them third in Class A state standings.

With a record of 30-2 the girls enter the district and regional tournaments with desire and goal to be the best.

Jerry Lacy of Central crowns Leslie Tharp as the 1988 SMS Queen.

Leslie Tharp looks off balance but she still puts the ball up for a lay up.

Senior, Karyl Pate, fights off a West Side player to get the rebound and to put the ball back up for a score.

Learning may occur in several different ways. A person might prefer to study with a friend or a group while others may enjoy being alone. Still, some may comprehend everything that is said in class and not feel the need to study any further. Whatever the case may be the fact still remains you are learning.

Steve Taylor uses the newspaper as a study tool in his classroom work.

Mrs. Foster's Seventh grade science class used the modern version of rhyme (or "rap") to illustrate a science lesson.

Elementary School is a time for new experiences for all students. The teachers prepare you for all the times that lie ahead. Whether it's playing a drum in the band, performing a song routine in the Christmas program, or just learning how to properly use your fork at the dinner table. All of these things work together to make you a better, more complete person.

Harding

On the recommendation of a friend, Chris Clarke came to Harding University. In short order he made his mark as a top student in communications, one of the fastest growing majors on campus.

For three years he's served as news anchor on TV12, Harding's student-operated cable television channel. He's been named Broadcaster and Reporter of the Year and served as president of the Broadcast Club.

Last summer Chris was one of six interns selected from 400 applicants at KUSA-ABC in Denver, Colo., one of the top 15 markets in the country. "Harding's TV12 is almost like on-the-job training. It gives you a head start in this very competitive field," he said.

Harding graduates are serving as anchors, assignment reporters and producers at major markets such as San Diego, Chicago, Louisville, Nashville and Little Rock. They came to Harding looking for the opportunity to learn, to develop their skills and to prepare themselves to meet the demands of the marketplace.

Under the direction of dedicated Christian teachers, students have hands-on opportunities in TV12 studios, the student radio station, KHCA, and the computer graphics laboratory. In addition, journalistic activity on the staffs of the award-winning student newspaper and yearbook develops their writing and editing skills.

Chris and the other 179 communication majors are only a part of a vibrant 2,700-member student body pursuing degree programs in more than 60 area majors. Whatever your interest, Harding is a place where you can set goals and work to accomplish them. You can prepare yourself for meaningful Christian service and realize your potential to become all you can be — that's the kind of opportunity Harding wants to provide.

Final Glances

Well, here we come to the end of yet another year at P.H.S. This means the end of another annual, no more dances, no more report cards, and no more looks from teachers expecting your homework when your typing to explain about how Mooch, the fish, ate it.

Looks often have a big impression on people. If the first look you give someone is bad, even if it's not on purpose, looks are very much like words, once it's done, it's done. You never get a second chance to make a first impression.

As we have learned about the various looks at P.H.S. as we've looked through this annual, we also look back at years past and remember the many looks that have come and gone since we've been here.

As the looks of excitement cross over the faces of my classmates and myself at graduation night, we'll look down at the faces of underclassmen with looks that say "We're leaving you . . . and you get to come back next year without us to look at the same old hallways, same old teachers, same old rules and put up with just the same old stuff in general."

As the classes pass through out the years, we leave each of our underclassmen the look of ambition, to make it in whatever they plan to do with their futures. We hope they all make it.

We know that as we leave, we'll definitely have the look of success.

We will have had education, fellowship and good memories - how can we lose?

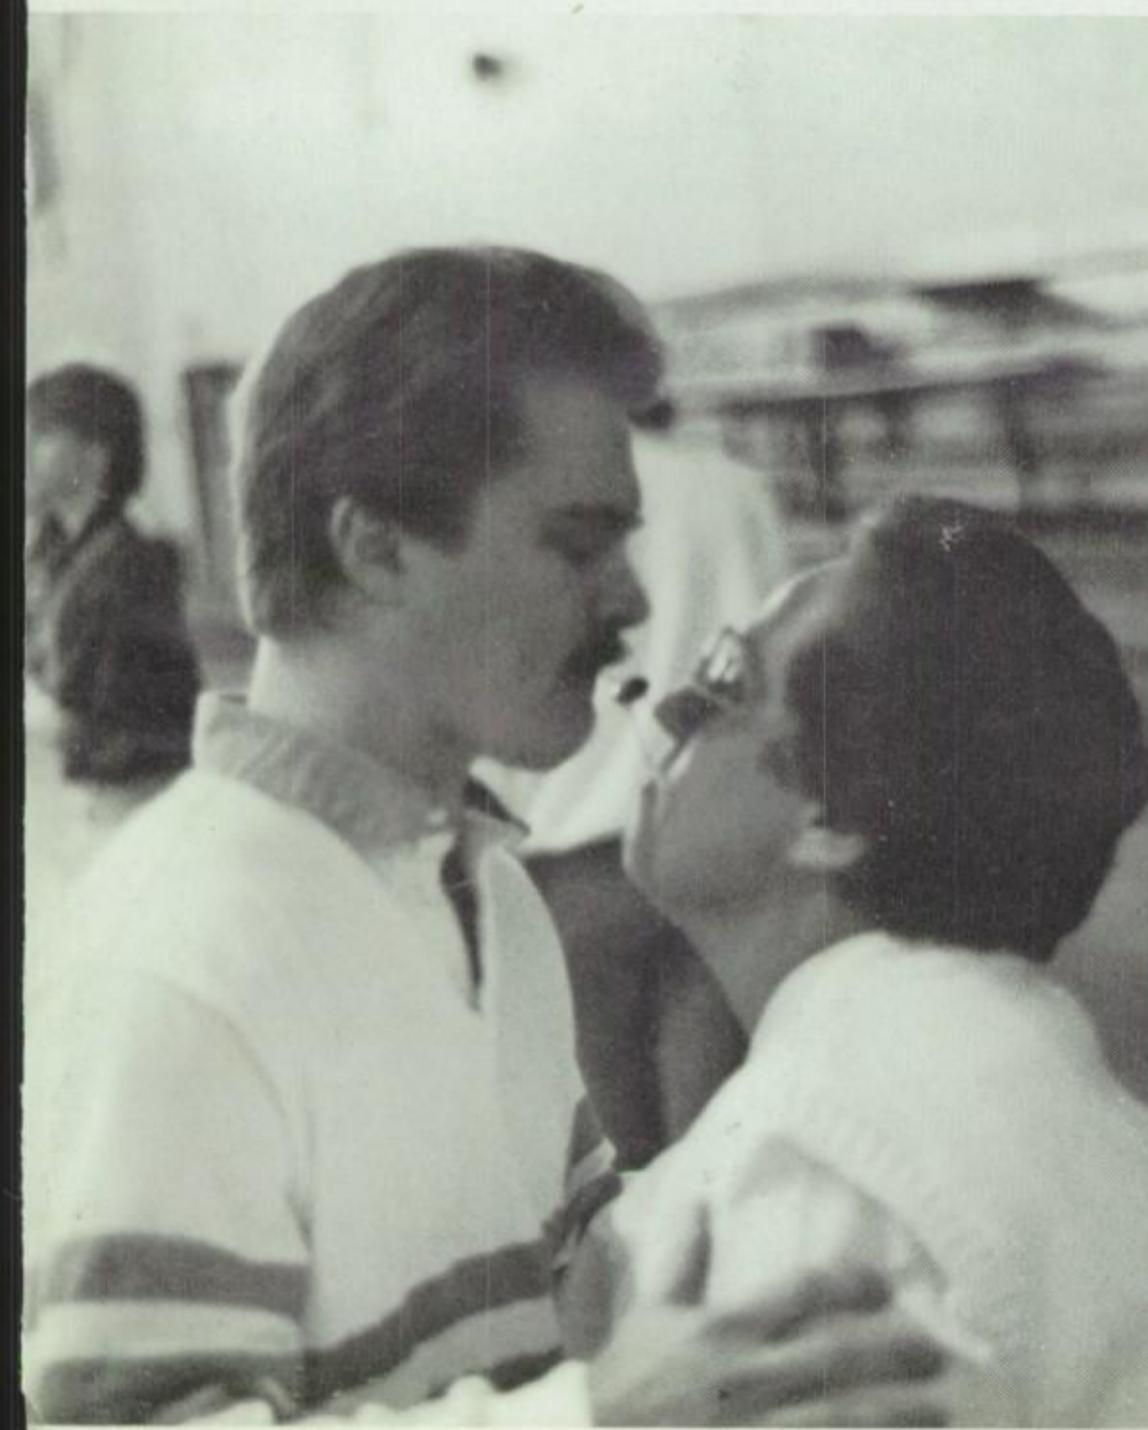

-Sharon Clare
